Good for Kids good for life
Getting kids active

Children should get a least 60 minutes of physical activity every day, including vigorous activities that make them “huff and puff”. Physical activity doesn’t all have to happen at the one time. It can be accumulated throughout the day by walking or riding to and from school, being active at school in PE and break times, active play at home or taking part in organised sport outside of school.

Be a good role model and have a positive attitude to being active. If your children see you enjoying physical activity and having fun, it can motivate them to join in.

Below is a home fun activity that you can enjoy with your children that will make them huff and puff by practising the dodge.

Dodge is a locomotor skill that involves a high degree of balance, stability and change in direction. It is common to many playground games and activities and is an important skill in the majority of team sports.

Artful Dodger
- One partner stands behind the other.
- On ‘go’ the front person runs around changing direction regularly.
- On ‘stop’ both players freeze. If the back person can take one step and touch the front person they become the new dodger.
